Andy started playing at Campus Crusade for Christ for a local college, where he formed a praise and worship band "Consumed." Consumed traveled in Ohio and several other states from 1998 to 2001 playing 200-plus shows and releasing two CDs. Consumed played in nearly every Christian denomination, Christian concert venues, colleges, and in public events as well. Andy has also had the opportunity to play on national and local Christian TV programs.

Andy's latest project Road Less Traveled was recorded at Dark Horse Studios in Franklin, Tennessee, a premier studio in the Nashville area. The musicians who helped Andy on this project have played for Michael W. Smith, Carrie Underwood, Avalon, Tim McGraw, Faith Hill, Randy Travis, to name just a few. Their credentials go on and on. God was definitely up to something when Andy started this project after not playing for a two-year stretch.

The Road Less Traveled is about a bumpy road, not a smooth one. This road has plenty of potholes along the way. It's time for the church to be honest and Andy is wearing his heart on his sleeve. Come and join him somewhere along this road.

What others are saying...

Extremely high production values elevate this debut solo CD to the upper tiers. Andy Monosmith toured with regional worship band Consumed from 1998 to 2001, and the experience really shows in his song structure and fresh lyrics. - Linda LaFianza, Phantom Tollbooth

What a pleasure to listen to your song "More Like You." The production is fresh and your melody soars and connects with the listener. There's something so approachable in your vocal, which has an effortless and charismatic quality. The lyric is conversational and the prayer sincere. - TAXI Feedback
