

the blue letter

This isn't the place to find some pretentiously prolific statement. We're not here to create some ambiguous controversy. Art is important to us. Music, and the ideas and messages we can all choose to convey through this medium, is a powerful tool. It's not about fashion or status. Challenge each other. Encourage one another. Be passionate about what you are doing. Be a message!

In a time when the hardcore scene has been confined to breakdowns and guitar squeals, and fashion has seemed to become more important than ideas and music, THE BLUE LETTER challenges stereotypes and genre boundaries with explosive textured soundscapes and powerful blasts of emotion. Their music is passionate and dynamic, layered with hoarse screamy vocals and soft interludes. Be ready...
