BIO Keith Pringle, a two-time Grammy Award nominee, has performed many memorable Gospel hits including "Can't Stop Praising His Name," "When All God's Children Get Together," and "I Feel Like Going On." As the founding member of the Pentecostal Community Choir of Los Angeles, Keith spearheaded six projects with the choir, two of which went gold. He then continued onto release multiple album and toured the world as a solo artist. Other nominations throughout the years include two Dove and one Stellar Award nominations.

Keith's comeback CD is entitled, "Nothing Too Hard For God." A revamped version of the classic "Call Him Up" (produced by Jimmie Wyatt with horn arrangements by Phil Lassiter) will be serviced to Gospel radio in late July by Vernice Watson (The Artist Company) to coincide with the GMWA Convention taking place in Cincinnati, OH. Future touring will find Keith headlining as AAFES (Army Air Force Exchange Services) tour alongside CLG distributed artist Jack Yates (from LeRae Records) and Minneapolis-based independent artist Sara Renner. The tour will kick off in November and visit many military installations across the United States.
