The "Safe Place To Learn" music instructional series has an eye toward providing top-notch instruction from some of today's top Christian players. On this exhilarating DVD, Richard Spremich, leader of "The Damascus Experience" fusion band, brings his multi-cultural style of playing drums and timbales into his teaching format. Rich demonstrates how all these influences can be carried to the drum kit, and how a beginning drummer can set a good foundation with techniques that are easy to understand and apply to the snare drum, bass drum, snare, bass, hi-hat, and full drum kit. Also included is a not-to-be-missed compilation solo and a final song with Richard playing to a track entitled "Christian-itis" from the current release of "The Damascus Experience".

The concept behind the "Safe Place To Learn" instructional series is to provide a safe atmosphere where musicians at all skill levels can get musical and instructional ideas that are Christian-based, not secular. Through this, we are acknowledging that when we, as followers of Christ, go to the world for instruction and ideas, our "hedge of protection" breaks down and we open up a conduit for the enemy right into our hearts, our homes and our lives.

Also included in this DVD is an interview with Rich about his childhood influences of big band drummers, such as Gene Krupa, Louie Bellson, and exciting drummers of today.
